Spirit Led Counselling Service – NSW Legislation Compliance

At Spirit Led Counselling Service, we are committed to protecting your privacy and handling your personal information in accordance with the laws of New South Wales (NSW). This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, store, and disclose your personal information, and your rights in relation to that information.

Collection of Personal Information

We collect personal information that is necessary for us to provide counselling services, such as your name, contact details, and any information relevant to your care. Collection may occur through intake forms, direct communications, or in the course of providing our services.

Use and Disclosure of Information

Your personal information will only be used for the purposes of delivering counselling services, managing appointments, and complying with legal obligations. We do not disclose your information to third parties unless required by law or with your explicit consent.

Storage and Security

We take reasonable steps to ensure your personal information is stored securely and protected from unauthorized access, misuse, or disclosure. Records are maintained in accordance with NSW privacy legislation and professional ethical standards.

Access and Correction

You have the right to request access to, or correction of, your personal information held by us. If you would like to make such a request, please contact us directly and we will respond in accordance with NSW privacy laws.

Contact Us

If you have any questions or concerns about our Privacy Policy or the way we handle your information, please contact Spirit Led Counselling Service. We are committed to resolving any issues promptly and in accordance with applicable legislation.

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time to reflect changes in legislation or our practices. Please review it periodically for any updates.
